

TEUTONS AGAIN ON OFFENSIVE GAINING GROUND EAST AND WEST

Prince Rupprecht Drives Against British New Positions Before Bapaume and Retakes Ground Lost By Him Wednesday

RUMANIAN RIGHT ON BLACK SEA DEFEATED

Reports From East Front Differ. Both Berlin and Petrograd Claiming the Advantages in Galicia After Bloody Day

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS
A general German and Austrian offensive on the French, Galician and Rumanian fronts has been launched, the Teutons gaining in these theaters.
In Northern Macedonia the Allied offensive has been checked.
Some ground lost to Germans in France has been regained by Prince Rupprecht.
Two thousand Russian prisoners have been taken near Lemberg.

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles.)
LONDON, October 21.—Yesterday's battle was marked by the renewal of the Teutonic offensives in France, Galicia, and on the Dobruja front, in each of which the Central Powers either made progress or regained some of the ground recently lost.

The reports from Berlin and Vienna record substantial gains in Galicia and against the Russo-Rumanian army on the Dobruja line in Rumania. These reports being uncontradicted, Bucharest admits that her army has been forced to give ground before the smash of von Mackensen and that the right wing, resting on the Black Sea, has been driven from its advanced positions.

Petrograd Denies Loss
Petrograd announces that the German attacks on the Galician front have been repelled with heavy losses to the attackers, while the Berlin announcements state that the Teutons have stormed and captured positions on the left bank of the Nafuvukha River, southeast of Lemberg, and have successfully resisted the Russian attempts to regain these positions by a series of fierce counter attacks. Here the Germans took fourteen officers, 2050 men and eleven machine guns.
On the Transylvania front there has been heavy fighting with both sides claiming to have secured the advantage. Both Vienna and Bucharest agree in that the slaughter on this battlefield has been terrific.

Report on Offensive

Prince Rupprecht, according to the Berlin despatches, has resumed the offensive on the Somme and yesterday launched a drive against the British new positions between le Barque and l'Abbaye, on the Bapaume front, on the road from Guinecourt to Benicourt. The drive carried the Germans into most of the positions captured by the British on Wednesday, the Germans holding this regained ground last night.

Between Courcellette and Lesau, on the Bapaume road, the British attempted to advance, and here they were thrown back, says the German official despatches.

British Claims Differ

The official press bureau here gives out a different statement of the situation, although agreeing with the Berlin account that the Germans have resumed the offensive. The British official statement is that the Germans attacked heavily in the Thiepval sector and were repulsed with heavy losses in killed and captured. Elsewhere on the British front in France there has been largely heavy artillery work with some few German attacks, which were withstood.
The official communications from Paris agree with the British despatches.
Petrograd is the only capital to report on the Volynia front, stating that "severe and unceasing fighting is still going on there."

Kaiser On West

An Amsterdam despatch states that the Cologne Gazette announces the presence of the Kaiser on the Champagne front, where he presented General von Elern, one of his commanders, with the Order Pour Le Merite. The Kaiser is reported in excellent spirits and confident of victory.
An afternoon Berlin despatch states that the Germans have found means of checking the British tanks. These were used by the British in attempting to advance from Courcellette, but were met by big guns which put the armored cars out of commission.

BRITISH TRANSPORTS ARE VICTIMS OF SUBMARINE

BERLIN, October 20.—The armed British transports Crosshill and Redek have been sunk by German submarines off the Mediterranean Sea. Factories and a railroad near Catania, Italy, have been shelled by a submarine.

MINSTENBERG SEES STRANGE ALLIANCE

Russia To Make Peace Soon and Germany, Austria, Russia and Japan To Be Allies

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles.)
CAMBRIDGE, Massachusetts, October 21.—A startling prediction regarding the realignment of some of the nations now at war within a few months was made here last night in an address delivered by Prof. Hugo Munsterberg, of Harvard, who stated that he had reliable information upon which to base his announcement.

The first event of world-wide importance that is to happen, he says, is the withdrawal of Russia from the war and the conclusion of a separate peace treaty between Russia, Austria and Germany. This separate peace treaty is now the subject of direct negotiations and will be concluded long before next spring.

Russia Staggering

"The Russians are unable much longer to maintain their end of the conflict against the Central Powers," said Professor Munsterberg. "Only a desperate peace will save that nation from a tremendous defeat. Russia now is half bankrupt and her people are starving. She must conclude a peace and her allies, Great Britain and France, will not agree to it. A separate peace, then, is her only alternative."

As a result of the breaking away of Russia from the Entente, Japan will also break away, being bound now to Russia by ties closer than those which bind her to any other party to the Entente.

When Japan breaks away an alliance will then be concluded between Germany, Austria, Russia, and Japan, a combination that will control absolutely in the Orient and to which will come the task of the upbuilding of Asia.

WHEAT CONTINUES TO BREAK RECORDS

December Deliveries Reach Such Figure That Attempt To Secure Embargo Will Be Begun

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles.)
CHICAGO, October 21.—The price of wheat continues to soar and records in the pit are being broken almost hourly. Yesterday the cereal touched the high mark of $1.71 3/4 a bushel for December deliveries.

So high is the price of wheat and so apparently strong is the demand that B. H. Dahlheimer, the president of the master bakers' association, announced that on Monday there will be started a systematic campaign through congressmen for the placing of an embargo upon all foreign shipments until the domestic demand can be satisfied.

With the price of flour rising daily, said Mr. Dahlheimer, it is certain that the size of the standard five cent loaf of bread will have to be cut down.

CRANK ATTEMPTS TO ATTACK WILSON

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles.)
PITTSBURGH, October 20.—What might have been the attack of a fanatical and armed crank on President Wilson was averted today during an auto trip the President was taking through Pittsburgh.

A workman with a toolbox, after chasing the president's car as it rolled through the streets, leaped on the running board. A secret service man, who always accompanies the president and usually rides in the front seat of the auto, leaped forward and with a powerful blow knocked the man to the ground. He was then seized by another secret service operative, seized the workman and held him fast. He was at once taken into custody by the local police. He gave his name as Richard Cullon, twenty-two years of age.

When searched he had a knife in the bag, as well as a bottle of some liquid, which the police are analyzing. Witnesses say that he chased the auto for a block. He is being held for observation.

When first arrested he talked rather wildly, saying that he was not satisfied with the President's conduct of the European war.

DIPHTHERIA—HOW IT MAY BE AVOIDED

Diphtheria is usually contracted when the child has a cold. The cold prepares the child's system for the reception and development of the diphtheria germ. When there are cases of diphtheria in the neighborhood children that have colds should be kept at home and out of the street until recovered. Give them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and they will not have to remain at home long. It also cleans out the culture beds, which form in a child's throat when it has a cold, and minimizes the risk of contracting infectious diseases. For sale by all dealers. Border Guards Have a Battle With Greasers

Drunk Mexican Soldiers At San Jose Started Fusillade

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles.)
SAN ANTONIO, Texas, October 21.—Continued disturbances along the Big Bend section of the border culminated yesterday in a small battle which lasted for forty-five minutes, in which American troops held off a large band of Mexicans.

The Mexicans, according to accounts, were mad with drink and advanced to the line, hurling insults at the American pickets during guard duty at San Jose, near Big Bend. These guards sent out at alarm and reinforcements were hurried to the scene.

When the border guard began to be strengthened, one of the Mexican bandits fired. This appeared to be a signal and the Mexicans scattered for shelter and began a demoralized bombardment of the Americans. The soldiers also sought shelter and for three-quarters of an hour the bullets flew back and forth across the line.

There were no Americans hit, but it is believed that a number of the Mexicans, who exposed themselves in their drunken fury, were either killed or wounded.

FRANCES COWELL IS RECORD SMASHER

Two American and One Coast Marks Set By Her In San Francisco Tank Last Night

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles.)
SAN FRANCISCO, October 21.—Miss Frances Cowell, in competitions here last night, established two American swimming records and hung up a new Coast mark.

In the 440-yard swim she covered the distance in six minutes and fifty-nine and a fifth seconds, a new American record for women for the distance.

Another American record went in the five hundred yard event, which this speedy swimmer covered in eight minutes flat.
In the two hundred and twenty yard event her time was three minutes, fifteen and one fifth seconds, the fastest time that has ever been made in a Coast tank.

These records were made in a sanctioned meet and will be allowed by the A. A. U. authorities.

AMERICAN AIRMEN CHEERED IN PARIS

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles.)
PARIS, October 21.—Ten American aviators, wearing the uniform of the French army, were the center of the demonstrations made yesterday at a luncheon tendered to Dr. Morton Prince of Boston, uncle of Norman Prince. The luncheon was attended by a large number of notables of France, including many officials and a large number of the leaders of intellectual thought. These cheered the American airmen and showered them with thanks in the name of the nation.

MANILA MAIL FROM BORNEO IS SEIZED

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles.)
WASHINGTON, October 21.—Information has been received by the state department that the Dutch steamer Arakan, bound from Borneo ports to Manila, was stopped on the high seas by a British warship and her mail confiscated. The seizure of this American-bound mail took place on August 30.

There is no official explanation of this action of the British. It is probable that an inquiry as to the reason for the stoppage of this mail and as to the fate of the confiscated letters will be made by the state department.

MORE TROOPS FOR BALKAN CAMPAIGN

Force of General Sarraill Being Added To—Athens In Turmoil As Allies Take Possession

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles.)
LONDON, October 21.—That the Entente expects to make the Balkan campaign one of its principal concerns this winter appears evident from the attention that is being paid to the developments at Athens and from the manner in which reinforcements for General Sarraill are being poured into Salonika.

Yesterday another strong force was landed from transports at Salonika, while it is known now that additional troops from both France and England are en route to this port for the Allies' offensive against the Bulgarians.

Rumanians Gaining
The Rumanians, according to Bucharest advices, have maintained the advantages they gained against the Austro-Germans in the Gitis Valley, through which the invasion of Rumania had come. The invaders, reports Bucharest, are being steadily driven back to their frontier.

A "Hans Still Uper"
Though France, Italy and some British troops are being poured into Athens, Piræus and other Greek cities in an effort to quell the rising disorders and effect the Allies' control of the country, the situation is growing worse, say reports.

A Rector's despatch from Athens today says that conditions in the Greek capital are extremely turbulent. Greek reservists are taking the law into their own hands. Riots growing from demonstrations against the Entente powers at times assume serious proportions and the Allies commanders complain that the Greek police and soldiers do not or will not enforce order.

Despite the presence of the Entente marines, whose numbers are being augmented and who are patrolling the streets, the Greek authorities are giving the Allied commanders practically no assistance in efforts to preserve order.

Reservists Out of Hand

A statement from Athens says: "It is evident that the reservists are out of hand, despite the fact that there are strong cavalry detachments escorting the French and other marines. Greek marines and soldiers are everywhere, yet the reservists are taking the law into their own hands. The Greek forces do not dispose of these disorderly elements."

The chief of the French police patrol has notified the editors of the papers opposing the Venizelos party that the French will henceforth exercise censorship over their papers."

UNIVERSITY DEGREE PHONED TO EDISON BY PRESIDENT FINLEY

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles.)
SAN FRANCISCO, October 20.—Counsel for Lieut. Col. Ogden C. Rafferty, retired, has appealed to Secretary of War Baker to set aside General Bell's disapproval of the findings of the court martial which tried Rafferty on the charge of conduct unbecoming an officer, it being alleged that he had improper relations with the divorced wife of another army officer. SAW WITH HER OWN EYES SHAME DUE TO WILSON

Mrs. O'Shaughnessy, Wife of Former Charge d'Affaires in Mexico, Relates Her Experiences

SAW WOMEN OUTRAGED AND CHILDREN TORTURED

Calls Upon Americans To Clear Nation's Good Name By Wiping Out Wilson Administration

How Americans have suffered under the Wilson "watchful waiting" policy is being told throughout the mainland by Mrs. Nelson O'Shaughnessy, wife of the former Mexican charge d'affaires, now one of the women campaigners who, starting from New York, are engaged in a transcontinental tour urging the election of Charles E. Hughes.

Mrs. O'Shaughnessy tells a brief story, but one that makes every loyal American blush with shame for the ignominy the Wilson administration has caused to be heaped upon the United States and the stars and stripes.

"I am for Hughes because with my own eyes," she said, "I have seen the destruction of a nation; with my own ears I have heard the cries of that bleeding, agonized, helpless people of what three years ago was the Mexican people."

"I have seen the House of God profaned, the ministers of Christ cast into ignominy, holy women have been defiled and last, but not least—I have seen our citizens, whose right to protection there is as indisputable as that of the sons of England, Germany, France, Spain, Japan, despoiled of the fruits of honest labor—and Oh, my friends, weep with me—

"I have seen our women outraged, our children tortured, our men lying in their blood.

"But now, with the help of God, and confiding in the underlying greatness of our nation, I hope for the vindication of our honor where other nations are concerned, and the performance of our duty where our own people are concerned."

Mrs. Antin is another member of the delegation on the "Women's Hughes Special," now on the Coast. In her addresses she characterizes Governor Hughes as a practical crusader for Americanism long before, as she put it, "hyphenism became a fashion and a passion."

"Looking about for a master workman for this task of nation building, we for whom the name America sum up the great hope of humanity have chosen a man who has already made a record in a parallel enterprise, Charles E. Hughes, who as Governor of New York a decade ago already sensed the need of social justice for spiritual integration, a man who thought as a statesman, and fought for his policies like a crusader," she says. "We want Hughes to do for the United States what he did for New York State. We want for President a man who can define an issue and stick to it and fight for it. We want this man Hughes to help us lay the foundations of national unity in condition of life and labor that shall not shame our democracy."

Mrs. William Curtis Demorest declared the Women's campaign train is essentially a practical enterprise.

"We are out for votes," she exclaimed. "We are to proselytize and to recruit. I recall the story of an English woman of high rank who was out recruiting for the English army. Seeing an Irishman milking a cow in the field she said: 'My good man why are you not at the front?' 'Because,' he answered, 'I think I will get more milk here.'"

"We are out for the milk. We cannot stop with enthusiasm, meetings and gatherings and cheering and cheering. What we need is definite enrollment."

The women are carrying a corps of secretaries and stenographers. The baggage car is piled high with trunks of all kinds, which is to be expected on a train carrying women passengers. Those in Party

MEAT MAKES ACHY BACKS

Meat eaters are apt to have weak kidneys and lame, aching backs. The kidneys are at work all the time, filtering uric acid out of the blood, and a heavy meat diet increases the production of uric acid so greatly that in time it is likely to overwork and weaken the kidneys.
A little meat is good, and athletes or others who do heavy physical exercise out of doors can stand a lot of it, but persons who work inside should cut down on meat as soon as they begin to feel heavy after eating, and are having backache, headache, dizzy spells, rheumatic pains, nervous troubles and irregular action of the kidneys.
Neglect of this condition leads to danger of gravel, dropsy and Bright's disease.
Don't delay.
Strengthen the kidneys by using Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. Thousands will tell you how good they are. "When Your Back is Lame—Remember the Name." Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Backache Kidney Pills and take no other. WAR CERTAIN IF ROOSEVELT HAD BEEN THE MAN IN WHITE HOUSE

That 'Wild Man' Would Have Plunged Country Into European Conflict Following Lusitania Sinking, Says McAdoo

HUGHES, PRESUMABLY, WOULD HAVE DONE SAME

Son-in-law Congratulates Country On Fact That Cool Head Occupied White House and There Was No Stampede

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles.)
COTT BEND, Indiana, October 21.—That this country would have been plunged into the bloodiest war of all history, immediately following the sinking of the British liner Lusitania by a German submarine, if that wild man, Theodore Roosevelt, had been President of the United States at the time," said William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury and son-in-law of President Wilson, in an address here last night in advocacy of the reelection of President Wilson.

The secretary was pointing out the advantages to the country of a President who could not be stampeded into hasty action with such serious results as war in sight, even though the provocation were as great as that when, despite the protests of the Americans, the belligerents sacrificed American lives.

Hughes Roosevelt's Understudy
That President Wilson brought the country through the Lusitania crisis without war is wholly to his credit, said the speaker, who expressed his doubts whether Hughes could or would have done the same, had he been in the White House.

"Mr. Hughes is only the understudy of Theodore Roosevelt in the matter of foreign relations," he said, "and it is natural to presume that he would have plunged the country into war, the same as Mr. Roosevelt would have done."

Both Sides Confident

Yesterday the New York managers of the two national campaign committees issued statements of the situation, each claiming certain victory for his candidate. The Democratic claim, advanced by Vance McCormick, was a general one.

"It is all over but the shouting," said Mr. McCormick. "The President is already reelected."

The Republican claims are more detailed, figures being given out by Manager Farham of the Hughes committee, and some of the heretofore doubtful States now regarded as safe being named.

"Hughes is now certain of three hundred electoral votes, with fifty more probable and with another fifty quite possible," said the Republican spokesman. "It is sure now, from everything that can be secured to indicate the outcome of the voting on November 7, that Hughes will carry New York State, with its forty-five presidential electors; Ohio, with its twenty-four electors; and Indiana, with its fifteen electors, all of which States have been placed by the Democrats in the doubtful column and by the Republicans in the probably Republican column. Our slow canvass shows that Hughes is now certain to win in each."

The number of votes in the electoral college necessary to election is two hundred and sixty-six.
